
Maria Vazquez

Maria Vazquez is a dedicated community leader and advocate for positive change. With over 35 years of experience in international business, Maria has built a distinguished career focusing on strategic development, global market integration, and cross-cultural collaboration. Currently serving as the Principal of International Business at Lozier Corporation, she has significantly contributed to expanding the company's international presence, fostering global partnerships, and delivering innovative solutions to meet the diverse needs of clients worldwide.

Beyond her professional accomplishments, Maria has been a prominent advocate within the Hispanic community for over a decade. Growing up in a vibrant, tradition-rich neighborhood, she has been driven by her firsthand experience of both the challenges and strengths of her community. Maria has organized and participated in cultural events and educational workshops, striving to empower colleagues and students while fostering connections among local organizations. Her advocacy extends to collaborating with local governments to promote policies addressing community needs.

Maria is a firm believer in the power of unity, resilience, and the preservation of cultural heritage while paving the way for future generations. She views community service not only as a way to give back but also as an opportunity to build supportive networks and foster meaningful connections.

Outside of her professional and community endeavors, Maria treasures spending quality time with her family and friends and delights in travel. She is a mother of two wonderful children and a grandmother to three beautiful boys. Maria remains committed to leveraging her skills and experiences to benefit both her organization and the communities she serves, looking forward to continuing her journey in international business while nurturing meaningful relationships and experiences.
